413 Highlands Road EUDLO QLD

2 1 3

In the leafy hills of Eudlo, near the end of a winding country road, you'll find this unique and private haven. Raintree offers a gently sloped two-acre block best described as an organic food forest with literally dozens of edible, unusual and useful plants, excellent water and all the infrastructure you'll need to live the permaculture dream. The charming red cedar chalet features a pavilion design, with the living and sleeping areas separated by a covered walkway, a sunny deck overlooking the frog pond with glimpses of the dam beyond, and stunning natural timber everywhere, from the gleaming polished floorboard to the exposed beams.

Previously an organic gardening education centre, the property has been run using organic, biodynamic and permaculture principles since 1997, when it was first established. Elevated and flood free, there's ample water on hand from the rainwater tanks, dam and springwater bore,
